DESTITUTION IN RUSSIA.

Famine Starving a Large Portion of the People in Russia, Sr. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—[Special] -Reports received here from Tamboff and its adjacent provinces announce that the Zemstovs have provided for the resewing of land to furnish supplies of grain until January next. After that grain until January next. After that date there will be the greatest difficulty to ensure food for the people, as the collection of taxes is impossible. The salaries of local administrative bodies have necessarily been suspended. Even if the funds to supply grain are obtained, the distribution, which will be over wide famine tracts, will be difficult, and the maintenance of hospitals, schools and asylums is doubtful.

The scarcity of oats and hay is compelling farmers to sell their live stock at mock prices for instance, a horse for two roubles, a cow for five roubles and colts from twenty to fifty copecks.

After the recent county fair in one district skeletons of ferty horses were found by the roadside. The animals had been killed for their skins. Destitution is also staring in the face a large number of people who have been employed upon public works, as work upon the latter must stop when frosts set in. The masses of people rely entirely upon the government to help them. This being the state of affairs in the present mild weather, the gloomy prospects held out by the coming winter, can be readily imagined. readily imagined.
